

Ken Hickling, Director

Ken provides business admin support and strategic planning services to small and medium sized companies. He supports a number of select clients that are providers of specialist and professional services where administration and communication planning is usefully outsourced to enable them to focus on service delivery and meeting their own clients' needs. As a director of JRA Ken works to ensure smooth running and efficient operation.